ACHS eyes more room

BY GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Illinois Board of Education has projected that the student population of Antioch Community High School could go as high as 1,900 students by the 1992-93 school year.

That would be a 200-student increase. At present ACHS has 1,700 students.

According to ACHS Supt. Gary Allen, the present student capacity of the school building is about 1,750 or a 50-student leeway.

The ACHS Board of Education held a special meeting with the solution of the imminent space problem the main subject.

The board decided to request that the Ill. State Board of Education conduct a review of the district's demographics, facility organization, financial trends, curriculum and other factors that might affect the organizational structure of the school district.

The board discussed the several options for expansion put before them. The options include the possible remodeling of the old industrial arts classrooms into academic classrooms plus a classroom addition on the east end of the school.

Allen said that about 15 existing classrooms would be lost in the remodeling project, so with a possibility of the plan bringing 60 new classrooms to the school, the actual classroom increase would be 45 classrooms.

Another alternative might be to consolidate with Grayslake High School which has contacted the ACHS Board on the matter.

Allen said that at present he wasn't aware of any advantage to this consolidation unless it might add open classroom space to the district's overall student capacity.

The third alternative discussed had to do with the possibility of building another school building on the present site of the Polley Soccer Fields on Deep Lake Rd.

If the second school becomes a reality, the possibility of splitting the classes between the two campuses was noted.

Ericson blasts Mann, McCluskey in farewell

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Generally when most boards hold swearing in ceremonies, it is a time for the passing of the gavel, handshakes and compliments.

Third Lake had a changing-of-the-guard at its last board meeting, but instead of the usual complimentary nature, the meeting featured charges.

Outgoing Mayor Paul Ericson, in prepared remarks, was critical of both new mayor Karen McCluskey and former Mayor Charlie Mann in his farewell address.

He accused Mann of leaving the village in a "crisis" state having too many bills for attorney's fees.

"When I took over for former Mayor Mann the village was in a crisis state. We were on the verge of losing our federally funded flood insurance due to ordinance which no longer met the requirements of Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). We also had haphazard dredging being done in conflict with this ordinance," Ericson said. He said he "immediately drafted, submitted and put into practice this ordinance".

"I'm appalled at the unprofessional manner in which he attacked the past administration and Karen personally. There was no crisis going on. We were in the process of meeting the FEMA regulations," Mann said.

Ericson said: "I also brought us into compliance with state statutes requiring a licensed plumbing inspector. We had newly annexed commercial properties but no business-licensing or liquor ordinances. I worked hard to draft and implement these areas and receiving revenue from these businesses".

Mann later said the liquor license ordinance was in place and Ericson only updated them.

Regarding village finances, Ericson said he leaves the village with $200,000 to its credit. "I stress to the incoming board to continue former Mayor Leo Borzewski's example of fiscal responsibility," he said.

Mann countered that when she left office the village had a $186,000 surplus.

Women make inroads into elective offices

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

With the vote of earlier this month the ranks of women in Lake County elective office have increased.

Women are making inroads each election in Lake County.

Starting in the courthouse there is two-term Coroner Barbara Richardson and two-term County Clerk Linda Hess, two-year Regional Supt. of Schools Sybil Yastrow and long-time Circuit Court Clerk Sally Coffelt, who was first elected in November 1979.

That's just for openers.

Women serving as township supervisors grew by one on April 4. Elected this time around were Sue Hanson in Lake Villa Twp., who will to succeed the retiring Dorothy Thompson; and Alberta "Bertie" Miller in Grant Twp., who succeeded herself for another four years; and Barbara Behm, who follows in the footsteps of long-term retiring Sup. George Bell in Fremont Twp. Only other woman supervisor is Marilyn Craig in West Deerfield Twp..

Number of women mayors in Lake County grew by two—to eight—as a result of this month's election. Of the former seven women mayors, Virginia Kennedy of Park City did not run for re-election this year. Evelyn Cooper, mayor of Lincolnshire, was not up for election. Neither was Verna Clayton of Buffalo Grove.

Incumbents returned to office were Elaine Palmer of Green Oaks running unopposed; Nancy Smith of Lake Barrington running alone; six-year Mayor Joyce Frayer of Lake Villa, who won her two-way race by 157 votes; and Pacita Morrison of Lakemoor running without competition.

Joining this elite list are JoAnn Eckmann, who defeated the venerable Mayor Paul Neal of Libertyville by 502 votes (2,507 to 2,005); Marilyn Sindles who won the job of retiring Mundelein Mayor Colin McCrea by 109 votes (1,764 to 1,655); Sandra Morris, who defeated fellow trustee Madeline "Boots" Romich for the right to succeed the resigned Claire Petrick; and Barbara Williams in Vernon Hills to succeed retiring Philip L. Ellis.

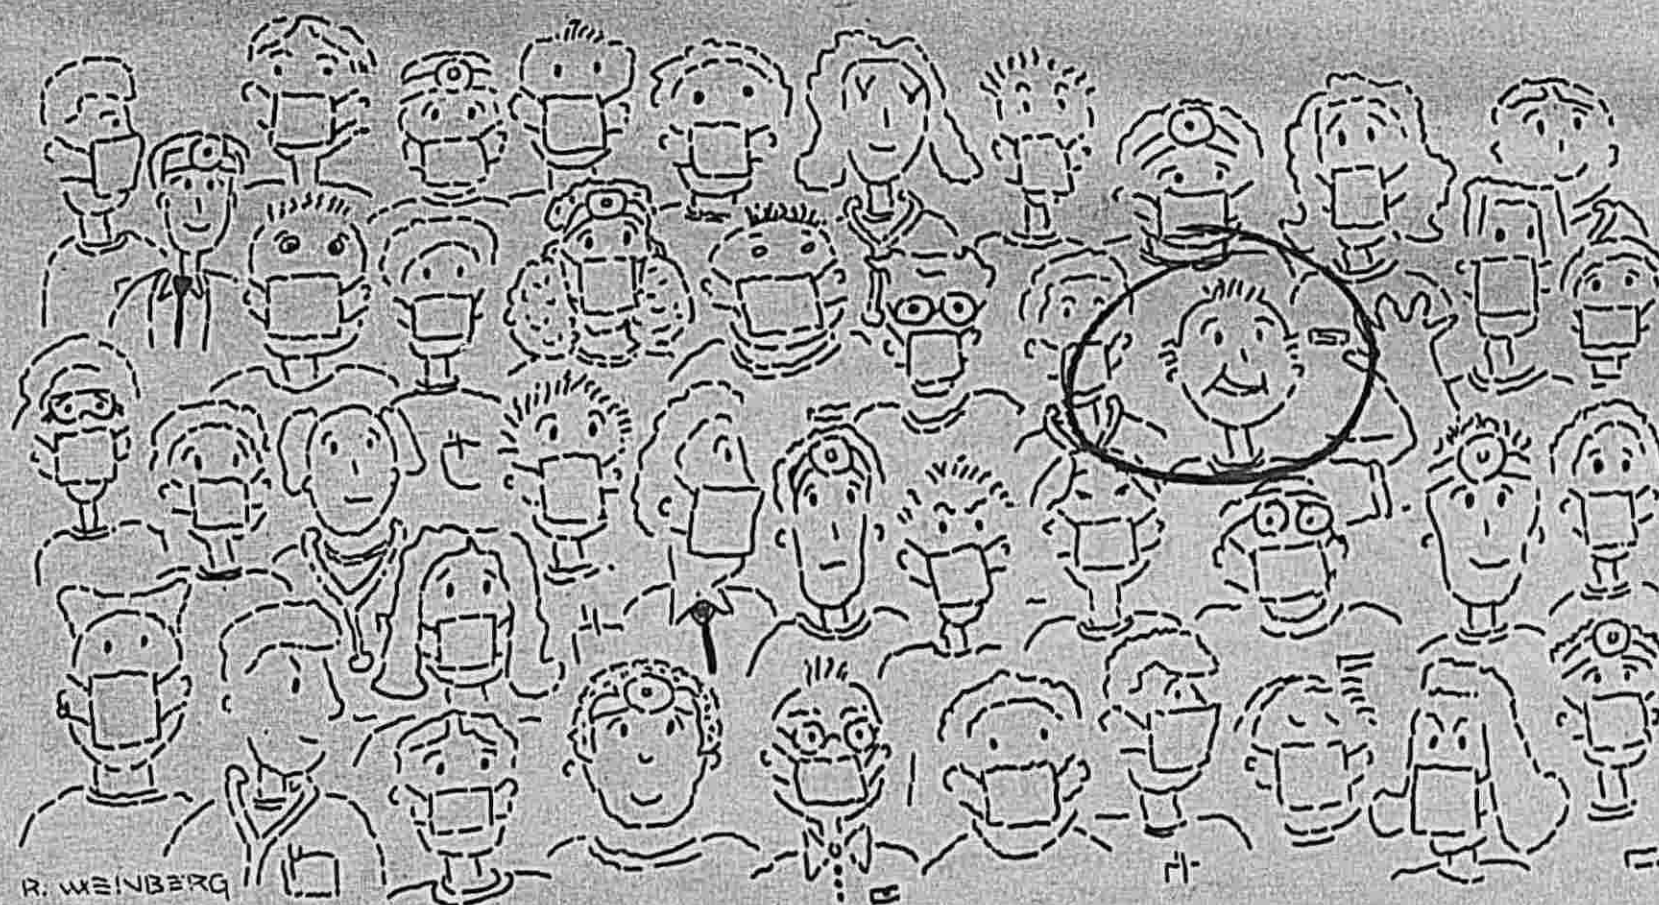

Coming close to winning mayoral races were Anna Markely Bush in Barrington (lost by 19 votes 565-536); Melinda Willens in Grayslake (fell 64 votes by 825-884); and Trustee Margaret Paul in Fox Lake, who lost by 307 votes to Francis Meier.

On the County Board nine out of the 24 supervisors are women. Those who did run for election or re-election were on the November ballot.

Edison installs transformers

Commonwealth Edison crews are in the process of installing a new electrical transformer at the company's station located on west Rte. 45 and south Rte. 132. This is designed to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of electricity transmission to Gurnee and Lindenhurst.

Edison is investing $190,000 in this project, as part of its 1989 system-wide reliability improvement program. Edison has earmarked $2 billion for improvements in the system over the next five years. This year alone, 150 new distribution lines are scheduled to be installed, 106 miles of lines reinforced and 35 transformers installed or upgraded. In 1988, the company installed 37 new lines and reinforced six miles of cable. Edison chose the sites for this phase of the upgrade project by evaluating present peak loads, electricity demands of building projects in progress, and anticipated future expansion.

Since Edison's generating station construction program was completed last year the company is channeling more resources into maintaining and upgrading its transmission and distribution system.

while the company's system-wide reliability record already is 99.98%, this new series of investments will allow Edison customers to benefit from even higher reliability.

Wilton off to running start

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The hard-fought campaign for the office of mayor of Antioch is over and now the winner and new mayor of Antioch, Bob Wilton, intends to emulate Chicago's Richard Daley and start out at a running speed to implement the changes his campaign posters deemed necessary.

Wilton, who like his predecessor Ray Toft, is an Antioch native interested in seeing his village grow and prosper under proper guidance, says that he and Toft have the same good things in mind for Antioch, even though they differ in some of the ways things should be done.

Wilton has seen his town go through many changes in the 54 years he has lived there, bar brief interruptions when he was away at Bradley University, doing a stint for Uncle Sam in Colorado, and a year when he moved away after a failed marriage and his family business closed its doors.

During most of his adult years he has served the village in many capacities: as one of the first paramedics on the rescue squad; as a village trustee for 12 years and as mayor for one term, starting in 1973.

He ran the family business Wilton Electric, helped his wife Leta when she was a partner in Struggles Restaurant when it first opened, and now is the owner and operator of Pizza Plus on North Ave.

He has one married daughter (who has given him his first granddaughter) and two stepdaughters.

He considers having a business right in town a plus in case the mayor is needed at the village hall on short notice since he is just a hop-skip-and-jump from the village hall, whether at home on Victoria St. (right downtown), or turning out those delicious pizzas at work.

One of his first priorities is to see that the question of a new village administrator and who it should be is taken care since that action was put on hold "until after the election" by the village board.

"We need to see that we get a planner in place as soon as possible to handle all the sudden growth that Antioch is experiencing," adds Wilton.

One of his main campaign issues, getting politics out of the police department, will seemingly be taken care of by the referendum passed by the electors approving the early creation of a police and fire commission. Wilton intends to appoint the three members of the commission as soon as possible, after he appoints a new trustee (with board approval of course) to take over his trustee seat.

Then other matters will be taken care of, these include curing the village's rusty water problem and seeing if something can be done about lowering the price that residents are now paying for garbage removal.

He's glad to be back in Antioch's top seat (he and Toft have faced each other in a mayoral election three times. Wilton won twice and Toft once.), and he intends to fulfill the confidence place in him by all the people that worked hard for his election and those that voted for him.

3 Environmental groups OK marina

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

There are some residents of the Blunt Park Beachwood Subdivision on Petite Lake in Antioch Twp. that are unhappy about "excavating and leveling of lakeshore property in which a large cut has been made in the shoreline."

The group, reportedly led by the president of the subdivision Paul Kitto, who is a resident of the property abutting that in question, has asked U. S. Sen. Paul Simon, Congressman Phil Crane, State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, the Army Corps of Engineers, the Ill. Dept. of Transportation-Waterways and John Soffietti, Chain O'Lakes Waterway Management, to intercede.

These residents claim that "the excavating near the current lake level, which is four feet below normal at this time," could cause flooding when the lake rises with the fall and spring rains.

The residents are also concerned about the removal of many old large trees, "not only because of the natural beauty, but also because of the impact the loss of their root systems has on soil erosion."

They add, "This project is zoned for a marina which will add heavy traffic to the residential streets leading to it."

They add, "We feel the Lake County Bldg. Dept. was lax in not doing a study of these potential problems prior to issuing permits."

According to Chuck Kempf, owner of Kempf's Resort and a lot adjacent to the two lots purchased by Spencer Askfeldt, "the neighbors are complaining about that fact that what was commercial property for many, many years, but has not been operated as such for a few years, is again going to be operated commercially.

Kempf said, "last year, Askfeldt purchased the property on the lake and two lots behind it in good faith. Knowing that the buildings had been operated as a resort and for boat rental in the past, he intended to reopen the operation this summer."

Kempf adds, he went to the Lake County Dept. of Building and Zoning and got the necessary permits for the remodeling being done.

"The landscaping and excavating (which looks great) that he did on the shoreline did not call for a permit from the Army Corps of Engineers because it is well above the floodplain."

"What did happen is that he put in a boat ramp, thinking that this came in under the permits he had received from the zoning department. He should have gone to the corps of engineers for this permit."

Kempf claims that he attended a hearing where Askfeldt appeared before the corps of engineers, the division of water resources and the Ill. Environmental Impact Agency where he was told he should have applied for the permit with the corps of engineers before he put the ramp in, but since the ramp is already in, they will adhere to his request for a permit.

Kempf says that some of the neighbors are mad because some ice fishermen did some damage in the area of the lots and a subdivision park.

"Usually I oversee them but I was not there after I had a fire at my place a year ago, said Kempf.

The upset residents reportedly erected a fence around the park to stop ice fishermen from walking across it to the lots in question last winter, as they has done for years.

Kempf said that he then cut down a hill on his property to give them access.

"I don't blame them for being upset that the new marina will make the area busier, but the man bought the property to operate it commercially in good faith and he has a right to do business," said Kempf.

Grass Lake committee works for yes votes

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(312)395-5380
School news

Good news for voters in Grass Lake School Dist. The unofficial vote count on the referendum was 357 yes to 335 no. A lot of hard work by many paid off, as the majority of voters cast favorable ballots for the education fund referendum. This was the fourth time the referendum went to ballot and the victory at the polls produced many happy and positive faces throughout the school and community. The Citizen's Committee that worked very hard to get information to the people, and such strong unified support should be commended. On the other hand, the committee would like to thank the 357 people who supported this issue. It was truly a group effort that paid off in increased revenue enabling the district to continue the quality of education at GLS.

The PTO of Grass Lake School promises a fun evening for all who attend the annual dinner dance to be held at Maravella's in Fox Lake. The date of this traditional fun-filled evening is Saturday, April 29, starting at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are available for $12 per person. Contact anyone on the PTO executive board to obtain your tickets. It is a fun way to wind down from all the hard work throughout the school year.

Attention, Grass Laker—the PTO is in the process of planning a Fun Fair Carnival. Keep your eyes and ears open for more information about it through the school and through this column.

In honor of National Library Week, Emmons School will be hosting many activities in the school library. The theme is "Your Library is the Answer. What is the Question?" There will be a creative bookmark contest for all grades, and winners will be announced after library week.

Emmons PTO will be holding their annual dinner dance on Saturday, April 22, at the Antioch Golf Course Restaurant. The theme for the evening is "Almost Paradise," and the fun starts at 6:30 p.m. "The Dancin' Machine I" will furnish the entertainment for the evening.

Recognizing judges
The dedicated election judges had a very busy day servicing the 700 or so voters who came to the polls. Most of these judges in GLS Dist. have been working the elections for many years and should be recognized and thanked for the fine job they are doing. Twelve, plus, hours makes for a mighty long day in anyone's book.

Art show reminder

Don't forget the "Very Special Art Show," sponsored by the Antioch Women's Club. It will be Antioch, IL. 60002. Etc., etc., etc.

The Schmehl family spent spring break in Eagle River, Wisc. When we arrived in our northwoods retreat, we were welcomed by 2 1/2 feet of snow in our driveway, on our roof, and our decks. Wow! Some spring break. The next day, we manned our gear and

Softball squad hoping depth helps in NSC

Having an experienced personnel can be an asset in the business world.

Such is the case in softball as well, particularly at Antioch High.

"I think our strengths are we have a lot of depth and experience," Antioch Coach Ken Anderson said.

The Sequoits will hope that depth and experience will be enough to be competitive in the North Suburban Conference. The NSC season starts April 15 with a 1:30 p.m. home doubleheader against Stevenson.

Anderson is in his first year as head softball coach but is certainly no stranger to ACHS. Anderson has been there some 18 years and decided to accept the head softball position last year after serving as an assistant under Mike Gordy.

Nine return from last year's team, eight players being letterwinners.

Three of the seniors are pitchers as Kelly Maple, Ann Rote and Denise Bosk give Antioch an experienced rotation.

But as in corporations, new, young energy is necessary. And the Sequoits feel they have that in sophomore Jenny Hagen and freshman Jeanelle Maki, who started the season with the varsity.

The Sequoits started the season on a rough note, though, losing to McHenry and Woodstock before clubbing Grayslake 16-5.

Hagen led a nine-hit attack with a three-for-five day and Bosk was three for four.

Debbie Wertz, the winning pitcher, was two-for-three.

"She did much better than her previous outing," Anderson said of Wertz.

Antioch's bats did most of the damage early, as the visitors scored 11 runs in the first three innings.

"We need to swing the bat a little better," Anderson said.

Defense should be a plus for this spring's Antioch team, Anderson said. The infield consists of Alli Rogala at first base, Wertz or Hagen at shortstop, Bosk and Rote at second, Dale Ramage at catcher and a rotating outfield consisting of Liz Glenn, Tracy Seale, Kelly Pramshafer (who also has played shortstop), Mary Kate Hughes and juniors Nicole Nerini and Robin Ramage.

Chemistry students win awards

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

For 11 Antioch Community High School students, a Chemistry I assignment and field trip turned into a contest-winning experience last month.

Those 11 students won awards in the Chemical Industries Council of Illinois' (CIC) poster contest. ACHS winners included Katrien Adameczyk, first runner-up; Kelly Cartwright and Nancy Kasproicz, second runners-up; Melissa Banks, Matt Bennett, Melanie DesBiens, Mike Hauser, Krista Johnson, Heidi Schmidke, Ray Slieteris and Brian West, honorable mention.

The posters, an assignment in Sharon Peterson's and Betty Overocker's Chemistry I and II classes, were first judged by all the chemistry classes. The top 25 were brought to CIC's Career Conference on March 10.

"I was surprised. I didn't expect to win anything," said Adameczyk, whose poster of a dragon won her a trip to Abbott Laboratories. ACHS' contributions to the contest comprised approximately one-third of the total posters. As a result, ACHS also had the most winners.

Cartwright and Kasproicz also won trips to Abbot Laboratories. "We were happy with what we won," stated Cartwright.

Adameczyk, Cartwright, Hauser and Kasproicz all stated that they were looking into scientific careers.

The posters will be on display at CIC's Scholarship Luncheon in Chicago on May 3.

Antioch starts NSC wars with champs

No one would blame Antioch baseball Coach Greg Decker for being a little worried about the April 15 opponent.

No, its not the IRS this year - the calendar gives two more days to worry about taxes - but in North Suburban Conference baseball circles, the name "Stevenson" is almost as forbidding.

But not for the rookie Antioch coach.

"I'd rather play them early. I'm looking forward to it," Decker said.

Decker began the countdown to the NSC season by finalizing plans for the pitching staff.

Dan Grote, a senior left-hander, picked up Antioch's lone win in its first four games. A fifth game was called after three innings because of snow. Grote averaged just three pitches a batter as Antioch topped McHenry 7-3.

Jerry Johnson and Mike Bablo have been the leading hitters for Antioch.

Thanks to Mother Nature's winterlike spring, the Sequoits have had a 7-7 tie against Round Lake and the snowed out second game against Waukegan West. Antioch led 2-0 at the time and the snow out could hurt Antioch at seeding meeting time for the regionals.

Antioch fell to Grayslake

7-3 in the other game.

"We need to be more consistent," Decker said.

As far as the looming league race is concerned, Decker said he favors Libertyville to win all the marbles.

Board narrows planner choice

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Village Board started the final phase of selecting a village planner by holding a special meeting to select three candidates out of a group of 17 applicants which had already been narrowed to six.

Selected for final consideration were Rolf Campbell Associates, Highland Park; Lakeside Group, Madison, Wis.; and Planning Resources out of Wheaton.

The new mayor, Robert Wilton, and new members of the village board, Larry Hanson, Marilyn Shineslug and Ron Cunningham, will be installed into office by the May 1 regular village board meeting.

A meeting is scheduled for Monday, May 8 for the board to make a final choice for planner.

The board's choice will be announced at the May 15 board meeting.

I'd like to personally thank Tricia Olenick for her words of wisdom concerning the past usage of my "water closet," and, also, for giving me the up-to-date information about the cow.

Tricia, may the bird of paradise land on your tongue! Marian Rohde, please call me and tell me that story. I need tidbits for this column, I really do. Remember, when I started it you said you'd be my "unpaid" assistant. I love printing cute little stories. I'll be waiting for you to call.

Sometimes I forget who I've said "hi" to and who I haven't. One thing I never forget is, if I say hi to you in this column it obligates you to call me with some news. So, hello Cheryl Henning, Mel Knirsch, Judy Hansen, Alice Dykiel, Lidia Olesky, and once again my dear friend and avid reader of this paper, Celia Bennett of Georgia.

Now, call me with some news—and remember to "Ask for the Lizard!" That's it, see you next week.

PM&L

Don't forget to go see PM&L's production of "Children of a Lesser God." Show dates are April 14, 15, 21 and 22 at 8 p.m., and at 2:30 p.m. on April 16. Remember, Paul Raci will sign the April 15 performance for the hearing impaired.

All-Star band

Are you bored? Looking for something fun to do? Well, no need to look any further! Treat yourself to an enjoyable afternoon or evening in May as you take in a performance of Antioch's AARP "All-Stars Band." The band will be performing at Warren Twp. on Wednesday, May 10, at the VFW in Antioch. For further information, write to AARP at P.O. Box 211, Former Antioch residents Mausey and Jerry Hurley were up from Missouri visiting their many Antioch friends and relatives. The new addition to their family was adorable. They named the pooch Bonzo II in honor and memory of Bonzo I. It was nice seeing them, and they looked very happy and chipper to be in and about town once again.

19th meets 20th Century at Millburn general store

A time machine of sorts exists in Millburn.

A casual motorist driving north along Rte. 45 would not notice it. Oh, perhaps the signs may warrant a casual glance now and then.

"Millburn Historical Dist." the signs read along the roadway. And if one really stopped to look, one could see the signs designating each of the 17 homes as a national landmark.

But Lake County's time machine does not start until one opens the front door to Martin's General Store. Suddenly, it is the 19th century.

There is the checker set ready for the next game; the McCall's magazine; the 1905 book 'Physical Culture'; hand-maid dolls and more. Prices could include a mouse trap for 10 cents, a wheelbarrow for $1.90; shoes for $1.35; chalk for seven cents and a hat for 50 cents.

"It is a nice community with a lot of historical factors. We want to show the younger generations what it was like," Dorothy Fettinger of the Millburn Historical Assn. said.

Fettinger and a small band of dedicated workers open the general store, Lake County's oldest, on Saturdays and Sundays from noon to 4 p.m. The store was open last year and had its 1989 opening last month.

"I think we did quite nicely for being new. We're pleased with the response people have given us," she said.

The front part of the store was constructed in 1861, with the back portion and the basement added. According to a 1986 report Fettinger gave to the association, the land was purchased for $100.

The building was torn down in the 1960s as the property to the east was a lumber yard.

The Millburn Historical Assn. became owners of the store when a Martin heir, Richard, died and the ownership was bequeathed in his will.

The store, which offers turn-of-the-century goods, is one of 17 buildings the historical district has had listed on the national registry.

All members of the association which staffs the store are volunteers and has 70 members. Milt Anderson, Ruth White, Bob Brooks help run the association along with selectmen Sandy O'Donnell, Maragret Lahey, William Revenaugh and Ann Brenner.

The store had been a community gathering place as the Millburn Cemetery Assn conducted its meetings on the back portion of the old store near the flour counter. Residents would wait for the Ferry Seed display to announce the arrival of spring and children would meet at the store to buy some penny candy. At Christmas time, there was hardy candy and the peanut brittle and of course, penny suckers.

But a quick walk to the car and the busy traffic on the highway one quickly realizes the visit to the previous century was a short one.

Letter to the Editor

Answers Walsh Editor:

I am responding to the letter from Frank Walsh, Sr., in the April 7 issue of this paper.

I know Mr. Walsh personally. He is a fine gentleman, and I truly value his opinion. However, I disagree with certain portions of Frank's letter.

Money may not buy a good education, but it definitely has a bearing on education. After all, we cannot pay our teachers with peanuts. Also, the last time I heard, all the textbooks and learning aids used at the school by the students are not donated items.

I agree that a good education takes a lot of work in the classroom—proper discipline and homework. However, Frank says he "never" sees the kids taking home homework. This simply is not true. My fifth grader has homework about four days out of every week, as did his three sisters when they attended Grass Lake School.

I also do not like to see financial waste. Unfortunately, there is probably some waste, and I'd say more at the top federal and state levels than in the schools themselves. I hope our school board continues to be as frugal as possible. Who knows, maybe it will then be another 15 years or so before we have to face another increase.

I, too, would like to see more quality time spent on the basics in the classroom proper. However, keeping schools in deficit spending will not accomplish this.

As for the reading level of college students being eight to 10 grades below level to succeed in school, I'd like to make this point. If this is true, they would never have passed the college tests to be admitted in the first place. That would mean a college freshman is reading on the same level as a fifth- or third-grader. The college students I know can definitely do better than this.

As for seniors on fixed income who can't afford a tax increase, I feel for them. I'd love to see a system worked out where a higher financial burden be put on parents of school-age children and give non-parents and seniors a break in taxes. However, as I look around our community, I think many of our seniors can handle the tax increase.

In some instances, seniors in our area are better off than some parents who not only pay taxes, but must buy more food, more clothes, etc., as they are still in the process of raising their families.

The seniors have earned the privilege of an easier life. I am happy for those who are fortunate, and sad about those who have to scrimp. However, good fortune versus scrimping has no age barriers.

The bottom line is, no one should want to live in a community that does not provide a competitive, quality education system. I already put three daughters through Grass Lake School and ACHS. Frankly, they received a good education somewhere, as they are all a lot smarter than I am.

I did "not" vote NO for the tax increase. How could I? It has been 15 years since the last one. If the price of groceries and other things stayed the same for 15 years, we'd all be a lot fatter, own bigger and better homes, cars and purses.

I venture to guess that a $100,000 house of today would have cost about $30,000 15 years ago. We'd all like to stop the clock in the area of expenses and speed it up in the area of income and salaries. This simply is not possible.

I'd like to personally applaud all the non-parents who supported this referendum. Success at the polls would have been impossible without their help.

An excellent informational meeting was held at GLS prior to the election. The meeting was well publicized beforehand. As I looked around the room into the faces of the many people there, I basically recognized supporters of the issue. My point is, why don't the non-supporters attend these informational meetings? Are they afraid they may learn something that will make them willing to untie their purse strings?

Avon's Geary claims public misled

Political opponents deliberately misled the press and the public on an issue of separate compensation, declared Avon Twp. Supv. Norman Geary in the aftermath of his defeat for reelection.

The separate compensation issue was pushed by Avon Twp. Trustee Rodney Rockenbach, who won reelection as a member of the Avon 1st Party, which swept all offices in the April 4 election.

Rockenbach circulated opinions in two cases rendered the same day by Michael J. Luke, senior assistant Illinois Atty. Gen. and chief of the opinions division.

'Opponents deliberate'

Luke informed State's Atty. Fred Foreman March 27 of the opinion that the township supervisor is not entitled to receive separate compensation, a practice handed down through the years where the supervisor received a stipend as trustee along with the salary as supervisor.

The Avon board had already adopted a new salary schedule for the coming term combining the supervisor salary and trustee fee, bringing to $34,300 compensation for the supervisor beginning May 1.

Avon 1st members distributed an opinion written the same day by Luke that a township supervisor "would appear to be required to repay any unauthorized compensation."

Geary said the opinion on repayment pertained to another case, and that the facts were different from Avon Township.

Helen Rosenberg, head of the civil division in Foreman's office, confirmed that Luke's opinion on repayment involved a downstate township where a salary was established for a supervisor during the term of office, which is specifically prohibited under the Illinois Constitution.

"There are two situations and two different sets of facts. In the Avon Township matter, the compensation action was taken openly and before the term started," explained Rosenberg. She said a question of fraud or violation of the Constitution doesn't apply in Geary's case.

Under the doctrine of voluntary payment, the separate compensation doesn't have to be repaid, Rosenberg stated.

The opinion in the downstate case was addressed to State Rep. Larry Wennlund (R-84th Dist.) from New Lenox.

Geary called the coupling of the two opinions deliberate, and an example of the underhanded manner used by Avon 1st to defeat him. "They made the compensation question their only issue, and it stuck," declared Geary, who also serves as county board chairman. He said voters and the press were misled.

Rosenberg said the Lake County state's attorney's office doesn't intend to bring any action in the matter.

Geary further charged that Rockenbach conducted a calculated campaign to destroy his credibility as a public official.

Crane announces National Service Academy nominees

Twelfth Dist. Congressman Philip M. Crane has announced that the list of the 12th Congressional Dist. nominees for the nation's service academies is now complete. Candidates are chosen on the basis of potential for leadership, achievement in required standardized tests, results of medical and physical aptitude examinations, and extracurricular and community development. Each service will review the applicant's credentials in determining who will be selected for enrollment.

Those Lakeland area residents selected for nomination to the academies for the entering class of 1989 are: Naval Academy: Bryan J. Fetter of Mundelein; Robert D. Avila of Lake Zurich; Rachel J. Jennings of Antioch.

Air Force Academy: Scott Andrew Ary of Gurnee, and Kevin M. Freund of Ingleside.

Lake County At A Glance

Softball City pact

HAINESVILLE ---Hainesville village board members and Softball City officials signed a four-point, two-year agreement on hours. Under terms of the agreement, Softball City will find a means to adjust the flood lights; outdoor music system will be turned off at 10 p.m. and the regularly scheduled 10 p.m. games will be allowed to be completed.

Consider options

GRAYSLAKE---Arbor Vista Subdivision residents who are concerned about the annexation of property to Grayslake at Rte. 45 and 120 are weighing their options in light of annexation of 26 acres by Grayslake. Grayslake contends the general business zoning granted for the property will have more strict uses than the county's suburban zoning. Arbor Vista residents have questioned the need for a shopping center at the intersection. No formal plans have been presented to Grayslake.

Eye space crunch

GAGES LAKE---Faced with space needs, the Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education has decided to purchase two mobile trailers from Waukegan Tire. The trailers will house the Woodland central offices. The offices will be used for two classrooms for the 1989-90 school year.

Tax news is good

LAKE ZURICH---Taxpayers got some good news this week. Their 1988 tax bill for village purposes will drop 28 cents—a full 25 percent—to .887 cents due to a whopping 30 percent increase in assessed valuation and rising sales tax receipts of $100,000 per month that has eliminated the corporate part of the village tax. Finance Committee members credit a decision made eight years ago to encourage commercial growth with lowering the tax rate. They say the tax picture will be even brighter next year with the opening of a new Dominick's and Wal-Mart.

School sells land

KILDEER---School Dist. 96 opened bids this week for 20 acres on Gilmer Rd.

it no longer needs. Extensive interest has been shown in the property with minimum $440,000 price. Proceeds will go into a construction fund to expand four other K-8 schools and some remodeling of the Rand Road Junior High School when the school moves into the 28-room building for the 1990-91 school year.

Meeting of mayors

KILDEER---Newly-elected Mayor George Welch is calling for a joint meeting of three other new area mayors—James Kay of Lake Zurich, James Peterson of Deer Park and Glenn Greishaber of Hawthorn Woods—to end a war of words and lawsuits of past years. He said the rapid growth in this area of Lake County in recent years calls for joint decisions because of the domino effect of these upon bordering municipalities.

ACHS growth

ANTIOCH---The Antioch High School Board of Education held a special meeting to consider alternative plans to handle the expected enrollment growth of 200 students inside of the next five years. Alternatives being considered by the board include the remodeling of the industrial arts classrooms into academic classrooms, plus additional classrooms built on the east side of the school. This will mean approximately 45 more classrooms. Another idea is to build another school on the site of the Polley Soccer Fields on Deep Lake Rd. The board is also looking into a proposal for consolidation made by Grayslake High School.

New strip mall

GURNEE---Construction is underway at Pembroke Corners, a retail shopping center at the northeast corner of Grand Ave. and Lawson Blvd. in Gurnee. With completion expected in May of this year, a TCBY frozen yogurt store has already begun operation. White Hen Pantry has also leased space in the strip center. A 15-year contract was signed by the chain for 2,571 square feet of space.

$30,000 deficit

LAKE VILLA---Lake Villa Twp. Sup.-elect. Sue Hanson was informed by Sup. Dorothy Thompson that the township ended the 1988 fiscal year with a $30,000 budget deficit. The board of trustees were surprised at the news and were blamed by Thompson for only looking at the budget and not staying aware of the actual amount of money in the town's account. Hanson said that, as supervisor, Thompson also acted as treasurer and should have been the one to inform the board of the township's financial status.

X-RAY VISIONS

Dental disease is common, but fortunately, much can be detected at an early stage through the use of X-rays. Modern X-ray machinery is completely safe, as the exposure is but a fraction of a second. The use of a protective apron or shield further reduces the chance of exposure to radiation. Conventional X-rays must be taken with the film packet placed inside the mouth to present a clear picture of the tooth and root. Bite-wing films are used to show decay between teeth. A film packet is placed in a holder with a tab which is held between the teeth. Panoramic films are especially useful in detecting space problems and for studying the relationship of all teeth. The patient can sit or stand with his or her head placed in a bracket to hold it steady while the X-ray camera moves around the head. The result is one continuous exposure which shows all the teeth and the jaw.

Keep
That Pretty Smile

by Kurt A. Bohl, D.M.D.

Details May Not Be As Clear In A
Panoramic X-Ray, Therefore A
Conventional X-Ray Will Be Used For A Problem Tooth.

If your dentist recommends an X-ray or a series of X-rays to see what's going on beneath the surface, you need not hesitate to agree. A full mouth series of X-rays is recommended around every 3 years, while bitewings or individual X-rays may be deemed necessary in the interim for problem teeth. For complete family dental care, call for an appointment.

Business Briefs

Lake Zurich

RE/MAX Homes Northwest enjoyed real estate sales in excess of $10 million for the month of March, according to Roberta McKay, broker/owner. "This is a tribute to the outstanding efforts of the 20 realtor associates in our office. RE/MAX is staffed only with full time, experienced realtors. We will continue to grow and offer the highest quality service to our customers and clients in the Northwest suburbs," McKay said. RE/MAX Homes Northwest is located at the junction of Hwys. 12 and 22 in the First National Bank Building in Lake Zurich. The number is (312) 438-6200.

Gurnee

The 80-acre Cutty site located on Grand Ave. in unincorporated Gurnee, was purchased last week by two undisclosed parties for $4.1 million. According to Stefan Aliferakis of Sheldon Good & Co., the site across the street from the Brookside subdivision, was originally going to be auctioned on April 9 at the O'Hare Marriott Hotel. The parcel, which is currently zoned for a 500-vehicle RV park, could probably be annexed to Gurnee, if it were used as a mixed-use commercial and residential development, according to John Wildenberg, Gurnee's director of building and zoning.

Wauconda

Stack-On Products Co., a privately-held Wauconda manufacturer of tool storage equipment, acquired Atkinson Manufacturing, a manufacturer of portable hand tool boxes and former subsidiary of Vermont American Tool, according to John Lynn, president of Stack-On. The new Stack-On subsidiary has been re-named AmeraStar Inc. The acquisition marks the first for Stack-On Products and "is a logical progression in our marketing strategy," said Jon Fiscus, vice president of sales and marketing. As a result of the acquisition, each company's customers will have the advantage of a single source vendor with a more complete product line.

Antioch

Stan Livermore has acquired total ownership of the Antioch True Value Hardware Store. Livermore has been a major stockholder and president of the firm for more than five years during which time the store has undergone dramatic renovation and remarketing and has experienced a fourfold increase in sales. A resident of Antioch, Livermore is also a major stockholder and active manager of the Lindenhurst True Value Hardware. "We are more committed than ever to serving our community. We are proud of our store, and our staff," Livermore said.

Wheeling

United Development Homes has moved its corporate offices from Oak Brook to 1400 S. Wolf Rd. in Wheeling. The new location is more centrally located to most of United's current developments, said Sheldon Lazar, president of United. These developments include: Hawthorn Club in Vernon Hills, Cinnamon Creek in Algonquin, Sycamore Woods in Aurora, Brittany Place in Bolingbrook, English Oaks in Cary, and Picardy East in Northbrook.

Wrecked cars keep Damron family working hard, playing hard

by KIM BOLTON
LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS

Herb Damron's wrecked auto business has experienced more than its fair share of hardships, but one would never know it judging by the success of the company today.

Damron and his son, Billy, are partners and owners of three businesses. Herb's Used Auto Parts, a 15-acre wrecking yard in Lake Villa, Herb's Used Cars and Herb's 24-Hour Wrecker Service in Antioch. All the businesses are located on Rte. 83.

Damron, a native of Missouri, began his career in the wrecked car business at the age of 16. He worked for two wrecking yards, North Shore Auto Wreckers and Andy's Auto Parts in Waukegan.

Damron knew there was money to be made in the wrecked auto business and began buying wrecked cars to fix on his own. He soon built a detached garage on his Grand Ave. property where he moonlighted to increase his income.

A hard working, young family-man, Damron experienced a house fire and was left with only his garage. He had no insurance to help him rebuild his house and his life, and was forced to move his family into a hotel in Lake Druce.

It didn't take Damron long to get back on his feet. He towed cars day and night and in the early '60s, was able to open Herb's Used Auto Parts on the property where Nielsen Plaza now sits in Lake Villa. Herb worked hard at the business and it began to thrive.

After approximately two years, when Herb's lot had a collection of 45 used cars, the town of Lake Villa decided it was time to put a stop to the "eyesore" and fought to have Damron reduce his lot to 20 cars.

Damron spent much of his time in 1964 fighting to keep his business. He won the bout in June when the mayor of Lake

Villa cast the deciding vote in the split election to keep him in town.

The struggle to succeed was over for Damron by the mid-sixties, although he always worked day and night and continues to do so today. One day in the summer of '66, he showed the world his carefree attitude by racing his first brand new tow truck on the day he brought it home. Damron came in first place at the race at Wilmot Speedway and has been winning ever since.

In September of '69, Damron moved his business from its one-acre lot to a 15-acre spot a few miles up the road at Wall St. and Rte. 83. Last year, he and his son Billy opened their used-car lot even further up the road, with a new, two-story office building and a pen for towed cars. They started with 10 cars and now have more than 70, including 18 antique cars they just purchased at a Florida auction.

"I wish we would have done it 10 years ago," Billy said. "If you treat people well and you sell good cars, you're going to make it."

The eldest living member of the Damron family, Herb has made a true success story of his life. With six children, 17 grandchildren, vacation homes in Wisconsin and Florida and three boats, Damron leads a happy life of working hard and playing hard.

"It took a lot of hard work, day and night," Damron said.

1st Natl. Bank of Waukegan changes name

Frank H. Mynard, president of the First National Bank of Waukegan, has announced that the bank will change its name to Bank of Northern Illinois, N.A.

Mynard said the bank is changing its name "to more properly reflect our changing and growing markets. While our bank's main office is in Waukegan, in recent years we've opened offices in Gurnee and Libertyville in order to better serve more families and businesses throughout Lake County and northern Illinois." He added, "We think our new name will be more appropriate to the needs and interests of our customers."

There is no change of ownership and the bank will remain, as before, a part of First Waukegan Corporation. Raymond A. Eiden remains president of the bank holding company.

Before becoming The First National Bank of Waukegan in 1865, this 137-year old family-owned-and-operated bank was known as Bank of Northern Illinois.

Lake Zurich towel maker merges with N.Y. company

R.A. Briggs & Co., the Lake Zurich based towel maker, said it agreed to merge with Home Curtain Corp. of New York into a new full-line textile home furnishings company.

Both companies, which will remain stand-alone independent operations, are to be part of Home Innovations Inc., a new company controlled by J.H. Whitney & Co., a venture capital firm which acquired Home Curtain in March 1988.

Eugene Breslow, president of Briggs, takes on the additional title of chief executive officer. His management team will remain in place.

Thomas Williams, current CEO of Home Curtain, will assume the additional title of CEO for Home Innovations. He said the plan is to build Home lines. Customers will now be able to purchase a complete line of shower curtains and accessories from R.A. Briggs as an additional part of our bathroom

"The merger also will enable us to expand coordinated offerings in our kitchen products and provide funding for expansion into new products and for capital investment to maintain our competitive cost advantage."

Innovations into a major integrated home furnishings corporation offering broad, cross-merchandised coordinated product ensembles.

"The merger also will enable us to expand coordinated offerings in our kitchen products and provide funding for expansion into new products and for capital investment to maintain our competitive cost advantage."

Founded in 1940 by Oscar J. Breslow,

R. A. Briggs & Co. has been owned by the Breslow family for its entire history. It now employs 500 workers and occupies more than 300,000 square feet of manufacturing space in Lake Zurich, including the largest embroidery operation for towels in the country. It has been in Lake Zurich since 1953.

Under the merger agreement, whose terms were not disclosed, Briggs will maintain its New York showroom and office.

"For our employees and our community, it's business as usual," said Breslow. "The new company has made a long-term commitment for Briggs' Lake Zurich facilities, plans no changes for the manufacturing operation, and is dedicated to remaining an important employer to the community."

Savings & Loan to continue to operate under FDIC

Libertyville Federal Savings and Loan Assn. will continue to operate under management of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC).

The nearly 60-year-old financial institution serving Lake County was among 38 additional savings and loan firms put under FDIC management April 6, bringing to a total of 215 savings and loans located in 31 states in the program.

Libertyville Federal is headquartered in Libertyville, with a branch in Gurnee.

FDIC said teams of managers will work to minimize operating losses, limit growth and ensure that operations are conducted safely. FDIC aims to conserve assets and maintain services until Congress approves a plan for a permanent resolution to problems of the individual institutions.

Operations are normal, a spokesperson reported, and all depositors will continue to be protected up to the $100,000 insurance limit.

Libertyville Federal is the only county institution named for management control.

Bunions are a progressive deformity, that begins with a mild bump at the base of the big toe. If left untreated the big toe deviates outward and destructive arthritic changes occur. If treated early, surgery may not be needed. If surgery is indicated it is not a disabling procedure. I utilize the Swiss Compression technique which prevents cast wear and the patient may walk that same day. Other advantages to this procedure are that surgery is performed on an outpatient basis and little or no time is missed from work.

Sensible gun bill

A new measure to curb handgun sales has a distinct Lake County touch. Federal legislation establishing a nationwide waiting period, as well as a mandatory criminal and mental check before any handgun sale, has been introduced by Congressman John Porter (R-10th Dist.) with the support of Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman, current president of the National District Attorneys' Assn.

While Porter's bill doesn't address the problem of kooks and unstable persons purchasing handguns, it would identify felons who attempt to purchase firearms. A similar law in New Jersey has been on the books successfully for 19 years, with 10,000 felons being caught trying to obtain handguns. California's 15-day waiting period has stopped over 1,500 individuals who were trying to buy handguns in violation of the law.

Porter's bill would require handgun buyers to wait a minimum of seven days and a maximum of 30 days while local police, in cooperation with the FBI, make checks into their criminal and mental histories. The bill would not inconvenience sportsmen and legitimate collectors. Some suburban communities already have invoked handgun laws, and more are considering action. The bill makes sense, and deserves support from the public.

Thanks, candidates!

With few exceptions, the roughest, dirtiest, campaign within memory was followed by the swiftest, most thorough poster and sign clean up within memory. Was there a twinge of guilt perhaps? Whatever, a good many of the political signs were in the trash barrel before the ink was dry on news reports announcing election results. Now you have to search carefully to uncover a poster reminder of the Battle of '89. To all the candidates, winners and losers alike, your thoughtfulness and caring about community appearance is appreciated.

New school merger

An overture made by Grayslake High School to Antioch High School to consider merger of the two districts is no "pie in the sky" theory or an act of desperation. Grayslake officials are dead serious about the proposal which could be a harbinger of other merger considerations in light of ever tightening school finances. North Chicago High School, for example, now is in a fight for survival.

Twenty years ago, under impetus from the office of the Illinois Supt. of Public Instruction, a committee of educators and citizens headed by then County Schools Supt. William L. Thompson mapped out 15 proposed unit districts for Lake County. The plan, known as super districts, fulfilled a state required reorganization plan. Committee efforts went into mothballs when the state never pursued reorganization goals. The proposal called for Grayslake and Antioch being combined.

Grayslake is looking for alternatives to a chronic problem of inadequate assessed valuation and under utilization of facilities. While Antioch might presently not see any benefits from a merger, future enrollment pressures, particularly from the rapid growth and development of Lindenhurst, might cast a new light on the picture. Some observers are predicting a push from Lindenhurst for its own high school. Such a development would revive an effort in the late 1950's to form a Lake Villa Twp. high school district. An Antioch-Grayslake merger undoubtedly would put to rest for all time pressure from Lake Villa Twp. sources for a separate high school district or a Lake Villa/Lindenhurst unit district.

As a whole, Lake County is in the throes of a boom era. Growth and development, however, is not evenly distributed or at the same pace. The result is widening disparity in assessed valuation and under utilization of classroom space. The economics of mass coupled with unification incentives offered by the state continue to make school mergers attractive.

Surprising as the Grayslake-Antioch merger proposal may seem today, it might not be surprising at all in the immediate future.

Viewpoint

63 years later, debate resumes over land use

by BILL SCHROEDER

During the winter of 1926, a flurry of farm sales, approximately 2,000 acres changing hands, gave rise to speculation as to what would be the future of the corridor running south of Round Lake and Grayslake to Lake Zurich.

Best guesses at the time were a site for the relocated Chicago Stock Yards, right-of-way for a branch of the Aurora and Elgin Railroad (electric) to Waukegan, or lands for another steam railroad that would parallel the Soo Line on the west.

The economy six decades ago was superheated—the 1920's boom. Public Service Co. of Northern Illinois was bringing electricity to rural Lake County, the dream of utilities magnate Samuel Insull. The corridor in western Lake County was "hot" because a high line was being constructed. Farmers were selling out for two to three times what land formerly was worth, some of them getting the "unheard" of price of $300 per acre. Buyers were speculators and investors, not farmers.

The corridor rife with speculation in 1926 corresponds to the present day Fairfield Rd., roughly the same area where the controversial Rte. 53 is proposed to extend northward into central Lake County.

More than 60 years later, landowners and their neighbors in the corridor are wondering if the sector will become a six-lane superhighway. State Sen. Jack Schafer has instituted a poll to see if people in the area favor construction of the highway.

Who says history doesn't repeat itself?

RAIL MUSEUM—Dist. 6 County Board Rep. Bruce Hanson, a rail buff, has a budding railroad museum developing around the old depot in Lake Zurich. He has a Soo Line caboose and now he's acquiring the old signal tower from Leighton, a rail crossing point south of Mundelein near Rte. 60. Hanson said the tower was erected in the 1890's and is considered to be the oldest in Illinois.

NO COMPASSION—Louis Greenwald, outspoken member of the board of Alliance Against Intoxicated Motorists (AAIM), has gone public with a letter to Chief Judge Bernard Drew urging him to take Judge William Homer to task for failure to convict a motorist on his first offense for drunk driving.

Greenwald argues that first time offenders can kill just as well as second time offenders. Greenwald ought to know that judges take a dim view of being chastised in public over a perfectly legal discretionary decision. If he doesn't know, Greenwald ought to be told. Dealing with drunk drivers is serious business, but ripping the judiciary won't do any good.

*****

IDEAS APLENTY—After more than 20 years in county government, Dist. 2 County Board Rep. John Balen admits to being a bit weary. But he's still brimming over with thoughts and ideas about how to make Lake County a better place to live and work.

The redoubtable Democrat from Waukegan, an avowed open spacer and a constant irritant to pro-growth Republicans on the Lake County Board, bristles at the often heard references to "controlled" growth. "You can't control growth, but you can manage it," Balen insists.

Balen is especially proud of what the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. is doing to preserve open space. He refers to the forest preserve district as the "only government available to the people."

The union executive has some definite ideas on how government can cope with rampant growth pressures in an economically "hot" area like Lake County. Balen is advocating creation of special urban county legislation. He would like to see a "Council of Governments" formed to iron out differences between municipalities and the county, particularly where competition for open space is concerned. With a wealth of experience, Balen deserves to be heard.

Letters To The Editor

Candidate defamed

Editor:
By discussing the recent election in terms of a few graffiti-smeared Marv Smith posters, you imply that Melinda Willen's campaign was responsible. Quite the reverse was true. In fact, Mr. Smith's greatest asset was his handlers ability to defame Ms. Willen. The Smith effort was loaded with innuendo, distortions and out-and-out lies regarding Ms. Willen's background and character.

The Willen campaign, on the other hand, never strayed into the zone of mudslinging. As evidenced by her presentations and publications, Ms. Willen's viewpoints and abilities were stressed, rather than Mr. Smith's numerous shortcomings. It would add unwarranted damage to her reputation, if by your article, she were to be viewed as the villain, when in fact, it is Mr. Smith who will have trouble washing the dried mud from his hands.

Steve Kuemmerle

Soft-headed law

Editor:
What are we going to do about the result of unplanned, over population?
I am not thinking of our world, but our children's world. Down the drain goes our heritage and customs, the values that made our country great.

I cannot tolerate the multi-lingual signs, "rights" of illegal aliens and other criminals; the attempts of cry babies, dead-beats, non-producers, special interests, procrastinators, flag-walkers and malcontents.

My only alternative is to run, the same as the pilgrims and settlers of this soon to be not-so-great nation. Smart people know when they are beat. The 1986 Immigration Reform and Control Act is a flop—too soft-headed.

E.J. LaCroix, O.D.

School cause dismissed

Editor:
How ironic that in the March 31 edition across the page from the editorial about "Temporary School Tax" is an article about your urging that elected officials and newsmen work together in a "partnership" to best serve citizens.

School districts conducting referenda this April have worked hard to get the word out about the need for additional revenue. I serve a school district whose children score in the top 11 percent on nationally normed tests, whose per capita student expenditure ($2,904) is the fourth lowest in Lake County and whose enrollment is growing dramatically. Emmons School is well managed by a fiscally prudent board and a competent, caring staff. Our last referendum was 1976 and we need money to continue our programs and to accommodate additional students.

It's unfortunate that on the eve of the April election you chose not to support the 11 schools with referendum issues, but utilized the editorial page to engage in specious analysis of what school funding should be. Those of us running public schools have to deal with what school funding is. There aren't many parents in our part of the country who could pay the cost of education on a fee system, as you suggest.

If you really are serious about a partnership between public bodies and the media, then please visit the schools whose causes you so cavalierly dismissed before you write the next editorial on public schools.

Impact fees: The hot topic

Editor:
Throughout Lake County, communities are engaged in unprecedented development growth. The decisions being made now by legislators at all levels of government will decide the future conditions of generations to come.

When families seek a community to call home, on what basis do they decide? Taxes, schools and services are of utmost concern. Certainly they anticipate that services being offered to existing homeowners also must be protected from development so as not to reduce the services they have come to expect. What are the options to accomplish this?

Since schools represent the greatest single factor in property taxes, this must be the priority concern. Should classrooms be made necessary to accommodate student influx from development, who should pay for them? Existing homeowners or the new homes being added?

When a development is proposed, roads, sewers, parks and various other amenities

Letters to the editor—Politically Speaking

are usually to be completed prior to construction. Impact fees are collected for sewer and water taps, with monies held for water treatment facilities expansions. But what of the schools?

Impact fees for schools are usually collected under local municipal ordinance. The levels of these fees are most often left to negotiations between school representatives and the developer, with the local government acting merely as a collection agency. Having negotiated virtually every other aspect of economic impact, some communities are now investigating the school impact potential and assuming direct negotiations with the developer.

An up front impact fee will eliminate the current ravaging of already fragile domestic budgets. With hefty bond issues, many families are now being called upon by mortgage lenders to make substantial monthly payment increases and cover inflated tax escrows made necessary by bond issues. In many instances, monthly payment increases of $200 per month or more have been reported. This can financially cripple families and must be halted.

An impact fee should be borne by the developer. Even if some of the cost is passed along to the home buyer, it is "buried" into the mortgage and appears as a minimal payment increase. When the home is sold, these costs are passed along to the next homeowner, who then assumes their share over time.

This is not to say municipal governments should seek to control education or school operational policy, but rather must become involved in the funding process to assure existing homeowners that their interests are protected and that school construction costs are applied to those who created the need.

Condemnation 'Good'?

Editor:

Your excellent editorial, "Condemnation Backlash," prompts me to add some observations on the right of the Body Politic to obtain private property for public use.

The term "condemnation" can be an ugly word. By definition it simply may mean censure or disapproval for wrongdoing. However, its alternate meaning is "to declare (property) legally appropriated for public use." This latter definition is completely and deliberately ignored or distorted by opponents to the Forest Preserve and Libertyville Township procedures to acquire private property for public use as open space. Note that it does NOT mean confiscation. The quarrel of property owners should not be with these two local bodies but with the United States Constitution; if you are not happy with the condemnation procedures, petition to have the Constitution changed.

The Fifth Amendment provides that private property shall not be taken for public use without just compensation. In the 14th Amendment, the right of eminent domain (to take property for public use) is passed on to the states. But what is just compensation? This is where the controversy begins. Many property owners have inflated ideas of what their land is worth, and are upset if they are offered fair market value for it. Others claim that their land is "beyond price" because it has been in the family for generations. Yet if a sufficiently large offer came from a developer, most landowners would cheerfully sell the old family homestead.

If government and landowner can't agree on a price for land, the condemnation process can help. Condemnation is a form of protection for the landowner; it was not meant to force a landowner to accept less-than-just compensation. Unfortunately because of ignorance, bad legal advice, or simple defiance, many landowners don't take advantage of this legal tool. Instead they wait, forcing the government to initiate condemnation.

When the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. tries to buy endangered land at the lowest possible price, those who oppose the preservation of open space portray the District as a dictatorship that steals land, evicts widows and orphans--and worse, prevents rich, out-of-state speculators from making millions. But it is the responsibility of government bodies to buy land at the least cost to the taxpayer. There is nothing unethical or unlawful about this. On the contrary, most taxpayers are outraged if their government spends a penny more than it absolutely must. As it is, those widows and orphans walk away from such deals with very generous profits.

"Condemnation" is an emotionally-charged word also. When it receives the wrong connotation it can be an effective weapon for opponents of the open space movement. Lately it has been equated with confiscation: State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis, displaying a regrettable lack of familiarity (deliberate or otherwise) with American constitutional law associates it with communist Russia! Irresponsible pronouncements like hers only complicate the vital issue of land acquisition.

William Rockar
Libertyville

One-growth industry

Editor:

Recently, the North Shore captains of business, industry and the professions departed their palatial suburban palaces to wrestle with a momentous problem of our time--deer overpopulation. Taking their cue from the unwashed of the 60s, the answer was clear, a demonstration with signs, kids, ridiculous statements about murder and all the other accoutrements of a media event.

Once the alerted news media had, like Pavlov's dog, been baited to the scene to fill the pages between their advertising with alleged news, the dandies departed on their dead cow Gucci's and their Mercedes seats, no doubt to the cowburger palace to feed their progeny something less nutritious than the Meryl Streep banned apple.

The thought that their shoes, car seat and lunch had been "murdered" by the less-than-sporting--though certainly expedient--packing house sledgehammer to the skull bothered them not a whit while they bitterly complained of the hunter who often sits for days in wet and freezing weather before being shut out. Apparently, the million or so deer shot each year in the midwest caused sensory overload, since the few dozen in Ryerson seemed all-consuming. The follow-up to all of this was the All-American practice of an inane lawsuit, a ridiculous settlement and, needless to say that necessity of the North Shore, a fund-raising cocktail party.

While the real outdoorsmen avoided mingling with the new (qualified by self-proclamation) naturalists, some knew the inevitable outcome. An attempt to shift the problem elsewhere, the wasting of money and a court's time, the dead and maimed deer and, of course, "give the venison to the poor" who probably won't like it or eat it. Thus, while the shooting goes on in the early morning hours (too early for cocktails, golf or even the power breakfast) the demonstrators sleep in their heavily taxed luxury, secure in the knowledge that our money is being squandered on one more cutesy idea.

No one dared suggest that a carefully controlled hunt by highly experienced deer hunters paying, say, $500 per license be held. Either bows or shotguns could be safer than the way it is taking place now. And the $30,000 that would have been raised along with the concomitant savings of probably twice that in abortive moving expenses, legal fees, salaries of marksmen, forest rangers, and the like would perhaps have been used in a constructive way to help people or the environment.

But, as we see, the leaders of business

by JOSEPH SOULAK

There is no rhyme or reason to what happened in some Lake County races in the April election. Take, for example, the battle for mayor in Libertyville.

Two-term Mayor Paul Neal was defeated in that race by middle-of-the-roader Jo Ann Eckmann. Neal never was big on open space, but was pro-growth.

This is the same township where the open space movement was born. Its father was Sup. F.T. "Mike" Graham. He was edged in the election by open space foe Ralph Swank. Graham suffered the same fate in 1978 and 1984, coming back each time.

So how do you figure this one? "Neal and I lost for almost the same diametrically opposed reasons," Graham admitted.

Political Action Committees (PAC) and their contributions are important to office holders. The money they raise for candidates is a big help at election time.

Critics say these funds influence the way a recipient votes. Those getting the money, of course, deny this.

A recent survey by Common Cause printed in USA Today showed Congressman John Porter (R-Wilmotte) of the 10th Dist. received 47 percent of the $242,553 spent on his 1988 House election from PACs. Congressman Phillip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) received no PAC money of the $466,898 his fall campaign cost.

"I think it is scandalous," said retired Wisconsin Sen. William Proxmire of PAC money. He calls this "legalized corruption."

Lindenhurst gets some pretty good press, both in Lake County's daily newspaper and on WKRS.

That's because the village has a paid public relations person writing news releases. This is in addition to other village writing duties.

The PR writer just happens to be the same person reporting on village meetings and other mat-and industry have superficial, short-range solutions to problems. The answer to a drugged, crime-ridden society is to pass a village ordinance banning non-existent Deerfield handgun stores. The answer to waste disposal problems is to pass legislation embracing the buzz word of recycling which might, at best, leave 80 percent of the problem unsolved. The answer to existing and future congestion on the highways is to elect an egotistical ex-used car salesman with a cockeyed $22-million open space program intended to preserve farm land in order to generate crop surpluses and shortages of affordable housing.

So, as we drive our foreign-made car to look at our Japanese TV and VCR and consider that the balance of payment deficit is caused by American industry (which is no longer competitive), we can take some comfort that these industrial titans with their silly signs are helping to create at least one real growth industry--government bureaucracy.

Saving living space

Editor:

Driving through the village March 27, I noticed smoke in the sky. Soon I came upon inky-black, and Hiroshima-mushroom-shaped clouds of choking smoke; repeated gusts of wind forced airborne pollutants across yards, and into homes, while visibility was hampered on the roads. Nearby, horses became (undoubtedly) upset; their owners were amongst the many local homeowners who had not been forewarned, so that they might have taken appropriate precautions to safeguard what they owned.

When typing one story it is just as easy to put another carbon in the typewriter and dash off a second or third copy for the radio station or other media.

If election-time campaign signs could vote would there might have been a record turnout in last week's elections across Lake County.

Some people were told not to worry; it was only the Barrington-based Citizens for Conservation "torchers" burning off some of their acreage in the name of conservation! My only hope is that they don't plan to set fire to all of the property that organization owns within the boundaries of the village of Lake Barrington--some 200 acres, or about six percent of the property comprising the village. Deliberately starting a fire when winds varied from 12 to 25 m.p.h., with frequent gusting well beyond 25 m.p.h. can only be considered a rather stupidly irresponsible action.

So what if Citizens for Conservation had the necessary permit to burn! Common sense should still prevail. People with investments in housing in this area need to know that Illinois Environment Protection Agency does not have the capability to monitor the actions of each individual/group requesting and receiving such a permit.

Forest Preserve naturalists, experienced and with appropriate credentials, do not consider that the timing of this conflagration was appropriate either. Because it is so late in March, our local "conservationists" have cooked up a diversity of fauna--young and helpless, as well as the older. I do not think I'll be asking for their "recipe", if this is an example of "Saving Living Space for Living Things." Is this really the way to protect our wildlife?

Film Reviews

"Dead-Bang"

Don Johnson, who seems to have little success playing anything but a tough cop, is at his "Miami Vice" best in the unoriginal thriller "Dead-Bang."

This one is full of fast action, basted with a few disgusting scenes, and sealed with a shoot-em-up ending that will have all the gun control advocates up in arms.

In fact even Sylvester Stallone and the National Rifle Assn. could be upset with all the lead that flies from "every automatic weapon in the world," as the villain is chased to a neo-nazi type kingdom.

Johnson plays a detective out to get a cop killer and willing to chase him across the country to do it. (I think I saw this one before!)

Stealing some of the show is the psychotic played by Frank Millitary. Rate this one 2.75 stars out of 5.

"Leviathan"

An excellent cast gets the credit for making "Leviathan," better than the average science fiction flick.

A lot of good direction, great set designs and special effects can also take part of the credit.

This is a Buck Rogers horror film that concerns a futuristic underwater electronic workshop that is in the path of a carnivorous monster that was a former Russian ship, sunk into the most eerie briny deep.

Two of today's best actors, Richard Crenna and Peter Weller lead the rest of a capable cast in their battle for survival against this aquatic creep. Give this one 3 stars out of 5.

'Les Miserables' arrives

The long-awaited, highly praised, 'Les Miserables,' based on Victor Hugo's classic, will be at Chicago's Auditorium Theatre for four months. Left, Craig Schulman who plays the legendary Jean Valjean and Jennifer Lawton who plays Little Cosette are in one of musical's many scene's.

'Les Miserables' has epic traits

by TOM WITOM

At last, "Les Miserables" has arrived in the midwest, where we can discover firsthand what the fuss is all about.

The long-awaited and much-ballyhooed musical adaptation of Victor Hugo's 19th Century novel has settled in for four months at Chicago's Auditorium Theatre, and if the reception it received during opening week is any indication, an mellifluous voice finds the right chords to inspire an army. He is well-complemented by Hollis Resnik as Fantine, Tamara Jenkins as Cosette and John Reuss as Marius.

Charles Pistone as Javert, whose misguided pursuit of Prisoner 24601 (Valjean) becomes an obsession, eventually changes his perspective. But character development, at least in this thunderous and bellowing, as occasion demands. Among the highlights were Schulman's rendering of the prayerful "Bring Him Home" in falsetto and Reuss' haunting "Empty Chairs at Empty Tables."

Equally impressive are the choreography and technical direction, as scenes are adroitly created from all directions. For example, a huge barricade is instantly pieced together as its halves glide together and, later, a bridge is whisked upward and the stage revolves carousel-like for an illusion of a man drowning in the swirling waters of the River Seine.

"Les Miserables" is a combination of fine music, compelling adventure, rousing songs and clever staging. No wonder it all adds up to an unforgettable night extension of its run is assured.

One need not look hard for reasons why this classy production has played to packed houses on Broadway and in London.

"Les Miserables" has all the earmarks of an epic. It brings to the stage tender scenes of romance; brash and bawdy comedy, and a full-scale revolutionary battle.

In three-and-one-half hours, the play grandly sweeps through three decades of turbulent history, tracing the odyssey of a noble peasant, Jean Valjean, from the time he jumps parole after 19 years of unjust incarceration for stealing a loaf of bread and bravely tries to build a new life.

Along the way, he rescues a young woman forced by hard times into prostitution, reveals an abused orphan as his own daughter and even joins in when student revolutionaries lead an insurrection.

Craig Schulman's solid performance in the lead role sets the cadence, and his case, is never really very meaningful.

In more than 20 songs presented in this operatic show, the cast displays its depth, producing sounds soft and silky, or

Lakeland Cruises to see Alaska

by DENNIS AND MARY O'BRIEN

What, exactly, is the "Inside Passage" that Lakeland Newspapers' Alaska Cruise is going to explore?

It's a splendid watery path whose southern half lies between the long, lovely island of Vancouver and the coast of British Columbia, Canada, and whose northern half threads through the thousand or so islands of Alaska's "Panhandle."

Ever since it was created by the melting ice of the last Ice Age, this region of islands, ice, forests and water has been one of the earth's great treasures.

From the frozen peaks of the coastal mountains and the icefields of Canada come glaciers, rivers of ice which carve valleys down the mountainsides. When they reach the sea, they break off, or "calve," directly into the water, and the remaining ice cliffs shimmer blue in the warm Pacific sun.

Explore Inside Passage

In many places the glaciers have retreated, and as the ice melted sea water flooded in to form fjords. These are very deep, easily accommodating the Daphne and other cruise ships which glide in and out through the glossy water without disturbing endless peaceful forests of spruce and hemlock, cedar and pine.

Here is where you'll surely see bald eagles and very possibly black-tailed deer and bears. The determined viewer, especially with the help of binoculars, may be rewarded with the sight of a moose or agile mountain goat among the rocks.

Sea otters, sea lions and seals feed along the shore.

Most exciting of all—and fairly common—are the great whales, particularly humpbacks and killers, which play in more open water between the islands.

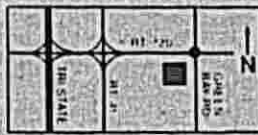

The recent Exxon oil spill occurred off the coastal city of Valdez, much further west along the Gulf of Alaska. Damage was confined to that area, and none of the oil will find its way to the route of the Daphne and the Lakeland Newspapers' cruise.

Children flying alone, things to know

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

It's the time of year again, when little Joey may take a plane trip by himself to Grandma's in Florida or to spend the summer with Dad who now lives in Houston. It is a time when children may have to fly alone.

Fortunately, the airlines are very experienced in transporting unaccompanied minors and are prepared to get this most precious cargo to their destination safely. There are still some things you should know.

Children five through seven years may be accepted on a non-stop, or "through" flight. A responsible adult must stay with the child until boarded and another must meet the child at the destination. The person meeting the child must show identification that he is the person named on a travel card issued by the airline.

Children eight through eleven may fly on connecting flights as well as non-stops. An airline official will assist the child in making the connection.

Unaccompanied children ages 12 through 15 will receive assistance in making connections, but need not carry a travel card.

Visit the airport before the trip. Point out ticket counters and airline personnel where he can get help, if needed.

Check your child's ticket to make sure all flight information is correct. Some cities have more than one airport. You wouldn't want Grandma to be waiting at Long Beach and little Joey to arrive at Orange County!

If assistance is needed, tell you child to seek help only from uniformed airport personnel or go to any ticket counter for help. He should not wait in line.

By following these few tips, you can be assured of a smooth first flight for our future frequent flyers.

Powell to resign

Grayslake High starts school chief search

Supt. Griff Powell will be leaving Grayslake Community High School in June.

The high school's board of education was expected to officially accept Powell's resignation at a special meeting Thursday. Powell will become superintendent at Highland Park-Highwood Dist. 111, a kindergarten to eighth grade system.

"The position will present new challenges I have not had in 22 years," Powell said.

Board of education President Carole DeWar said a search for a new superintendent will begin next week. She said the board hopes to have a new superintendent in place before June, but the school could name an interim superintendent.

"We're sad to see him go but it is a good career move," Dewar said.

Powell, who served as principal at Adlai Stevenson High School in Prairie View before coming to Grayslake, is in the first year of a three-year contract.

"I'll miss the people," Powell said of his six-year stay at GCHS.

GCHS Business Manager David Bonner said the school has made academic improvements during Powell's tenure.

Last year, GCHS received recognition in the Chicago press for its American College Test scores. GCHS topped the Illinois average in English, Math, social science and natural science.

Warren group seeks Meyer's resignation

Citizens for Fair Taxation in Warren Twp. is calling for the resignation of Woodland Supt. Dr. Marlin Meyer.

According to Chairman Gordon Shepherd, Meyer should step down "due to his inept operation of the Woodland School and poor advice to the board of education".

Meyer said he was not concerned about the group's request, stating its members do not live in Dist. 50 boundaries.

Woodland has been rejected three times at the polls for an educational tax fund increase.

Shepherd said the district should live within its means.

Meyer, who came to Woodland in 1986, is working with a three-year contract.

Howdy to host boat show

Howdy Marine is celebrating their anniversary by hosting the 3rd Annual Howdy Boat Show. The show features both of Howdy's lines, Four Winns and Cruisers, Inc., and will be held April 14 to April 23 at the dealership.

First started in a small, non-heated, 3000 sq. ft. facility, Howdy, then named Portside Marine, opened its doors in 1986. A stark contrast exists today in 1989. Howdy has a 25,000 sq. ft. facility on Rte. 59 in Fox Lake.

Why should you choose an emergency room before you need one?

Because all emergency rooms are not alike!

The Emergency Room at Saint Therese Medical Center is proud to be the only Level II Trauma Center in North Lake County. Level II is a special designation awarded by the State of Illinois to emergency rooms that meet a long list of rigorous standards.

So, if one of life's emergencies occurs—big or small—you can be assured that Saint Therese is bound by the State to provide the highest level of care in the area—24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

And, to round out our emergency services, the Saint Therese Area Treatment Satellite on Rt. 59 at Rt. 132 in Lake Villa is open from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week.

Fredrick pushes for Hometown Awards

State Rep. Virginia Fredrick (R-Lake Forest) encourages any town, village or local organization to participate in the Governor's 1989 Hometown Awards Program. The program, in its eighth year, recognizes volunteerism in local communities.

To qualify for the program a group must submit an application in any one of four categories, or a combination. The categories include:

General — volunteer projects that have made outstanding contributions to a community's overall improvement and quality of life.

Youth Participation — community projects that have been selected, planned and conducted by senior citizens.

Senior Citizen Participation — community projects that have been selected, planned and conducted by senior citizens.

Economic Development — community economic development projects that have used volunteers.

The Governor's Hometown Award program is a way of recognizing and honoring outstanding community projects completed by volunteers.

Persons or groups interested in applying for the awards program can contact the Dept. of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) toll-free at 1-800-562-4688. Completed applications must be received by DCCA no later than April 28.

Extension Office to host free program on arthritis

When people hear the word arthritis, most tend to think of it affecting only the elderly. But in reality, the suffering of arthritis is inflicted upon 40 million people in the U.S. That translates into 1 in 7 persons and 1 in 3 families.

These mysterious cripplers take over 100 different forms, victimize women far more than men, affect young and old, an cause multi-billion dollar losses — bigger than the gross national products of most countries.

Arthritis is defined as "inflammation of a joint" and can develop in any of over 100 joints in the body.

Rheumatoid arthritis, osteoporosis, spinal arthritis, lupus and gout are types most often diagnosed. Depending on what part of the joint is affected, the form of arthritis present can be determined. Some of the more serious forms can spread from the joints to other parts of the body.

University of Health Sciences-The Chicago Medical School is making plans for its eighth annual fitness footrace to be held Saturday, April 22. Proceeds will go to the Lambs Farm in Libertyville.

The event, traditionally a freshman class project sponsored in conjunction with the student council, attempts to bring together all segments of the Lake County community in a fun-filled day which includes picnic, music entertainment and community fitness.

The 10 kilometer (6.2 mile) course, which is TAC certified, encompasses Rte. 137 and passes by the Veterans Admin. Hospital, through North Chicago and Lake Bluff. Fee for pre-registrants is $8 prior to April 15 and $10 after April 15. Age divisions will include: male and female 18 and under; 19-29; 30-39; 40-49 and 50 and above.

Entry forms may be obtained through the office of student affairs at Chicago Medical School, 3333 Green Bay Rd., North Chicago (60064) or by calling (312) 578-3294 or at Lambs Farm, (312) 362-4636.

"This is intended to be a family oriented event designed to stress the importance of fitness but also to point up the importance of community goodwill," Evan Leibner, a freshman at CMS and coordinator of this year's race, said.

Carmel hosts Meyer

DePaul University men's basketball Coach Joey Meyer will address Carmel High School students about the special relationship he had with his mother Marge. The day will begin with a Mass at 10:30 a.m. in the boys chapel at Carmel. Meyer will then speak at the Mother-Son brunch to be held at the Sea Princess in Libertyville. The cost of the day is $10 per ticket.

Delay opening

Toft Auto Racing's Wilmet Speedway will begin its new season April 22. The date is a week later than planned because of cold weather.

And they're off

Despite frigid temperatures, Waukegan city officials reported a strong turnout for annual run at Midlane Country Club. Runners competed in eight divisions. The Raidogs, Waukegan's Teenage Youth Center, will benefit from proceeds raised. Age groups included those under 15 years and over 51. Waukegan Mayor Robert Sobonjian started the race. - Photo by Alon Jeffrey.

Hanson hopes Skyway battles bring Lancers more progress

As far as College of Lake County baseball Coach Gene Hanson is concerned, the Lancers' best timing for improvement would be the present.

"I'm very letdown. We're not making progress. We're not maintaining our concentration and intensity," Hanson lamented.

The Lancers did not start the season with as dismal a record as Hanson's comments might suggest - an 8-7 southern road trip and a 9-9 overall record are no cause for panic. But it's that lack of progress which concerns the CLC head coach.

"We get careless on defense and that really hurt us," he said.

The Lancers, who had a heart-to-heart talk with Hanson following a 1-2 record after the spring trip, will have a chance to remedy the coaches' worries when they travel to Chicago to face Truman in a Skyway Conference tilt April 14. The Lancers then host Milwaukee Tech April 15 and Rock Valley April 16 to complete a five-game weekend. Both home doubleheaders begin at noon at CLC's Grayslake campus.

"We found out what our weaknesses were," Hanson said of the spring trip.

Roy Salinas led the hitting attack with a better than .400 batting average in addition to four home runs and 17 RBIs. Steve Hall, an outfielder, had a .333 batting average and had three home runs and 13 RBIs. Brad Dodge contributed a .315 batting average, had two home runs to go with 11 RBIs.

Upon the return to wintery weather, the Lancers fell to Kankakee 2-0 and split with Harper, winning 4-0 and losing 9-5.

"We should have won all three games,"

Hanson said.

Bruce Wimer, a Zion-Benton graduate, was the winning pitcher in the win over the Hawks. He allowed only three Harper hits while striking out and walking five batters.

"He was around the plate and in total control. It was the best he's done so far," Hanson said of Wimer.

Salinas had two of the three RBIs (the fourth run was unearned) and Mike Bock had the other RBI.

The Lancers started a game against McHenry April 8 in what was supposed to be the conference opener, but snow forced postponement.

As far as the Skyway Conference goes, Oakton and Waubesa are off to the strongest starts, winning 11 and nine games, respectively.

Mundelein gymnasts favorites for own 11-team invitational

Lake County boys gymnastics fans will be able to see some of the top gymnasts in the state when Mundelein hosts its annual Whitmore Invitational April 14.

The Mustangs are the favorites in the 11-team meet, which begins at 7 p.m.

Mundelein Coach Doug Foersch said he expects stiff challenges from Conant, Libertyville and Schaumburg.

Mundelein, an early-season state power, was second-place finishers last year, and is coming off a first place finish in the Rolling Meadows meet last week and will be preparing for an invitational at York April 15.

"We really want to beat Addison Trail in that meet," Foersch said.

At Rolling Meadows, the Mustangs faced some of the tougher competition of the season and edged Lake Park by two points for top honors. Rolling Meadows was tied for third place with Glenbard East with a 49.60.

Lake Park was first through three events but the Mustangs rallied to make up the one point deficit.

"The meet did not say a whole lot for the team. A team with a good specialist can score well. It did say a lot for us as individuals," Foersch said.

Highlighting Mundelein's efforts was T.J. Dortch. Dortch finished first in the parallel bars with a 9.05, topping Schaumburg's Ave Maish and Conant's Dan Velasco.

Mark Kropp was second in the floor exercise with an 8.5. Rich Picheitti was second in the still rings with an 8.96 and Jeff Turnbull was second in the high bar.

Earlier, the Mustangs topped rival Libertyville 155.6 - 143.1 in a dual meet. The team total broke a MHS school record. Picheitti was first on the still rings with a 9.3 and Dortch was tops on the horizontal bars with a 9.2.

"The team is very confident but we are not taking anything for granted," Foersch said of the two invitational meets.

Libertyville tennis club sets special tournament

Libertyville Tennis Club in conjunction with the Special Olympics will host a tennis camp for the developmentally disabled on April 14-16.

The camp will start with an exhibition match April 14 at 7 p.m. followed by participating in skills drills and learning of tennis strokes.

On April 15, all athletes will be on the court learning the basics of tennis, competing in skills contests, fun games and ball machine drills.

For more information, or to donate food, time or money, call camp coordinator Celeste Pregracke at (312) 362-5553 or Sandy Hutchins, director, North East Illinois Special Olympics at (312) 377-7250.

MHS, Corsairs to resume rivalry

For one team, the softball game could be the highlight of the non-conference season. For another, the contest may be just another tune-up before the conference season begins.

So that is the way Carmel and Mundelein's softball teams are viewing their upcoming April 21 at Mundelein. The game begins at 4:30 p.m.

The crosstown rivalry will be played, of course, weather permitting.

And so far Mother Nature has not been nice to either the Corsairs or the Mustangs. Both teams played just three games coming into this week's contests.

"We know they're beatable but we have to play our best to beat them," Carmel Coach Linda Jeffrey said.

Jeffrey said the Corsairs consider the mighty Mustangs, ranked second in the state in one poll and Libertyville as their natural rivalries.

Mundelein, however, apparently will not be approaching the game the same way.

"I'm not concerned with the record. We're trying to get ready for the conference season and the regionals," Mundelein Coach Jim deRivera said.

The Mustangs lost two of their first three games while the Corsairs won two of three.

Carmel started the season with a stellar pitching performance from Stephanie Seier. Seier fired a one-hitter as Carmel topped Zion-Benton 3-2. "She has decent speed and she moves the ball around a lot," Jeffrey said of Seier.

Seier struck out five and walked just one against the Zee-Bees.

Michelle Muellner led the seven-hit attack with a two-for-three game. Shannon McEllin had an RBI single and the other run was scored on an error.

Carmel had more punch on offense three days later, pounding Madonna 12-2.

Soccerfest next for kickers

Mundelein High School girls soccer coach Dave Ekstrom will be able to see how his team reacts to situations out of the ordinary at New Trier's soccerfest April 15.

The format will give the Mustangs a chance to see how they fare against some of the better suburban teams under conditions such as a 30-minute and 40-minute game.

The Mustangs have been involved in two lopsided games to begin the season, beating Fenton 7-0 but losing to Libertyville 8-0.

In the season-opener against the Wildcats, Libertyville scored four times in the final quarter to secure the victory.

Sarah Feinberg, an MVP on last year's team, scored for of Mundelein's seven goals in the North Suburban Conference win over the Bison. Nancy Murillo, Mary Fahey and Tina Castiglione also had goals.

"We should be strong in the midfield. We have a lot of experience back," Ekstrom, who also coaches the boys team at MHS, said.

Following the soccerfest, the Mustangs resume North Suburban Conference matches with a contest at home against Antioch April 18.

Bulldogs aim for better defense

Grant baseball Coach Fritz Kazlauskis knows after eight game what will make or brake the 1989 version of the Bulldogs.

"We have to pick up a bit on defense. We're not making the routine plays," Kazlauskis said.

The Bulldogs, who are taking a break from the Northwest Suburban Conference schedule with a doubleheader against Maine East April 15 and a game at Cary-Grove April 17, are off to a rough 2-6 start.

The Bulldogs did get some good news when Chris Pease picked up the win in relief in a 12-6 win at Warren.

"Our defense was super that day," Kazlauskis said.

But defensive letdowns caught up with Grant in one-run losses to Woodstock and McHenry.

Kazlauskis cited poor field conditions as one reason for the tough start on defense. In upcoming games, the Bulldogs host Lake Zurich April 21 and Round Lake April 26 before finishing April with an away game at Grayslake April 26 and a non-conference battle at Mundelein April 28. All NWSC games begin at 4:30 p.m.

Improving squad set for softball league tilts

Following a southern spring trip and non-conference battles, the College of Lake County's softball team is preparing for its Skyway Conference season.

"I think we're making progress. We're cutting down on our errors. When we started the season we were averaging five or six a game and now we are at two or three a game and they are not hurting us," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

The Lancers hope that improvement continues when they host Truman April 14 in the league opener. The contest in Grayslake begins at 2:30 p.m.

The Lancers are settling in on a lineup this week after experimenting the first month of the season.

"We've been trying to find new positions for people," Garcia said.

Carla Davis of Zion and Kathleen Quilty of Libertyville have been the starting pitchers for the Lancers winning two and three games, respectively.

Round Lake resident Debbie Boness, a sophomore, has been on a hitting tear as of late. She has hit .419 in a nine-game stretch.

Kim Terry, a freshman from Zion, missed the first three weeks of the season, but is back in the lineup.

The outfield includes Antioch product Sue Nauman, who has already thrown two runners out at the place from center; Val Segar, a freshman from

Following the southern trip, the Lancers dropped two games to Kankakee but bounced back to edge the University of Wisconsin-Madison 6-5.

Nauman was two-for-four with three RBIs, Robertson two-for-three and scored three runs and Teri Huntington, a Warren graduate who was Most Valuable Player for the basketball team, was two-for-two.

A Nauman single with the bases loaded in the seventh inning provided the difference.

CLC then beat the Badgers 4-0 to complete the sweep.

Concentration paces Ellis to free-throw crown

Just before the final four free-throw shooters began to battle for the boys and girls titles at the College of Lake County, there was some debate over which basket to shoot at.

Some shooters this Friday night preferred the closed-in north end as opposed to shooting to the open-ended basket.

But either turned out to be fine for John Ellis.

Ellis, a Waukegan Christian senior, took top honors in the boys division while Zion-Benton's Sue Spiller topped Antionette Braboy in the girls division.

Shawn Harlan, a sophomore, was the top area finisher in the boys division, as he finished second. The Mundelein student was an honorable mention pick on the all-Lakeland basketball team.

"It's mainly concentration," Harlan said of his secret to success.

Harlan came into the final against Ellis off a 25-for-25 round in the semifinals. The final went down to the last five shots with Ellis prevailing 22-21.

Ellis played for a Waukegan Christian team which finished 13-15 and fourth in the state among private schools.

Ellis, like Harlan, said the keys to good free-throw shooting, no matter what level, is "concentration and confidence".

Ellis plans on attending Ball State in Muncie, Ind.

Harlan had defeated Carmel's Ken Moreano in the semi-final round.

Advancing to the final four for girls were Diana Verbie, Spiller, Cyndie Donner and Braboy.

MHS grad Scott helps Elmhurst 9

Jeff Scott, a Mundelein High School graduate, is one of three seniors on the roster for Elmhurst College's baseball team.

Scott is expected to play outfield and be a designated hitter for Coach Bob Fabrizio's team.

The Elmhurst-based school is coming off a 28-14 overall record last year, 12-4 in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) and earned a berth in the NCAA Division III regional.

Scott is listed as a pitcher for the BlueJays.

"With nine freshmen on the roster, we are a relatively young team," Fabrizio said.

Dist. 4 reps. ponder chances of reelection

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER
Lakeland Newspapers

With the County Board primary races eleven months away, some candidates are beginning to plot their campaign strategies while others are still trying to decide if they want to enter the race for the 24-member board.

In Dist. 4, which includes Antioch, Avon, Grant and Lake Villa Twp., there will be two seats available come next March. County Board Chairman Norm Geary of Avon Twp. and Charlotte Kiesgen of Grant Twp. both have decisions to make concerning their political future.

Geary hasn't decided as of yet whether he will run again. He has served on the board for 24 years, four of them as chairman, but his bitter defeat in the Avon Twp. election earlier this month has him second guessing about his candidacy next spring.

"I'm going to have to wait to see what happens. I was very surprised by the margin of defeat in the supervisor's race," Geary said.

Geary, who has always carried Avon Twp. in previous Dist. 4 races, said he isn't so sure he would do so well in Avon this time around. "I would have to carry Grayslake in order to win the election and I'm not sure if I can do that at this time."

Kiesgen, on the other hand, is ready to go. She was elected to the board four years ago, replacing Donna Mac Litwiler, who chose to run for County Clerk that year but lost to Linda Hess.

"I'm definitely going to be in the race. I haven't disappointed my constituents who put me in office and if anything, I think I've gained support over the past four years that I served on the board. My voting record represents

Primary races only 11 months away

what I feel is best for Lake County and for my supporters. I vote with honesty in mind," asserted Kiesgen.

She said one of the main issues in the election will be open space. "I am known as 'anti-open space,' but that's not the way it is. I have voted for the acquisition of many parcels by the forest preserve, but I also have made my feelings known that I'm not in favor of the tactics that are used to get these parcels. I think it requires much more planning and preparation, without the bully tactics."

When asked if the Geary defeat in this month's supervisor election will help her chances of reelection, Kiesgen replied, "I think it will help me in Avon Twp. I think I've gained support in Avon during my first term, and with Norm (Geary) losing so badly, I think my chances are even better."

In the election four years ago, Kiesgen carried Antioch, Grant and Lake Villa Twp. in terms of votes, while Geary carried Avon Twp.

The other representatives in Dist. 4 include Jim Fields of Antioch Twp. and Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa Twp. Their time will come in 1992.

Johnston says he will run in 1990

Charles Johnston of Round Lake Beach has informed Lakeland Newspapers that he will be a candidate next March for Dist. 4 representative on the Lake County board.

Johnston, who was last on a political ballot nine years ago for the school board in Round Lake, said he likes his chances in next spring's primary.

There will be two seats available, those of incumbents Charlotte Kiesgen of Grant Twp. and Norm Geary (board chairman) of Avon Twp. Kiesgen has announced her candidacy, but Geary isn't sure what his future plans are as of yet.

Johnston and Geary are not known to be "best buddies" and a matchup between the two could be a hotly contested and bitter race.

"I wouldn't be running if I thought I had a chance of losing. I have major support in all four township and I think I can win," Johnston said.

He continued, "The county needs to take a different direction. All the battles on the county level are on the wrong issues. The county should be a resource for the municipalities, but it doesn't seem to be working that was at this time. There's got to be a better way."

A political gathering will be held for Johnston at Kristof's in Round Lake Beach on April 25, where several major endorsements are expected to be made.

"I LOVE LUCI."

Six months ago Katie McKenna and her family moved to Lake County. They needed a new family doctor, so Katie called Luci at Condell's Doctors Office Connection, a physician referral service.

Unlike other referral services, D.O.C. goes far beyond using a computerized system to match a patient's special medical needs with a doctor. Luci also takes the time to match intangibles (such as a patient's personality and temperament) with one of our many talented and experienced specialists. And if it's urgent, we will schedule a doctor's appointment while you are on the line. It's this kind of personal attention that makes Luci and D.O.C. so special.

Just ask Katie.

And call Luci at DOC-2900, ext. 5610.

You'll love our healthy attitude.

Consumerism

Q. What should I get for my money when I have my eyes examined?

A. You should get tests to determine how well you see at far and near distances; whether or not vision problems like nearsightedness, farsightedness or astigmatism are hampering your ability to see; how well you can change focus from near to far and vice versa.

You should also get eye health tests, including one for glaucoma, if you are over 35 or have a family history of this disease. The optometrist also can detect signs in the eyes of general health problems like high blood pressure and diabetes.

There may be other tests, depending upon the results of the basic examination. Expect all this to take from 30 to 60 minutes and be prepared to discuss your general health history.

Antioch land rehab target

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The older homes between Jensen's Restaurant and the apartment buildings on the southeast corner of Rtes. 173 and 83 and also the entire Oakwood Knolls subdivision in Antioch have been targeted for allocated HUD funds that will come out of $100,000 received by the Lake County Housing Authority.

These are funds to be distributed by the housing authority to areas in Antioch, Fox Lake, Highwood, Round Lake and neighborhoods in Zion to assist owners of rental property in rehabbing that property.

To qualify, the property needs a minimum of $600/unit to repair or replace a major system that is failing, heating, plumbing, electrical, structural, to correct Code deficiency or to make an otherwise standard unit accessible for the handicapped.

The proposal must be economically feasible if required after rehab rents no higher than street rent for the size unit where the neighborhood is located.

The owner of the property must be able and willing to match public funds on a 50-50 basis and must also agree to sign certain certifications in exchange for the public funds.

The owner must agree to have a lien on the property in the amount of public funds received (forgivable when the program requirements are met.)

Antioch is one of the areas targeted for preference since most of the rehab funds given to the housing authority in the last few years have gone to the Zion area.

On Wednesday, April 19, at 6:30 p.m., a short meeting will be held at the housing authority office on Rte. 45, one-fourth mile south of intersection of Rte. 45 and Washington St.

The program will be generally explained at the meeting and owner packets will be handed out.

Those planning to attend should call (312)223-1170, ext. 220 or 202 by April 14. If one cannot attend, a packet of information can be mailed to them if requested.

There are a lot of ways to learn to swim.
Unfortunately, some of them don't hold water.

The best way to learn to swim is with an experienced, trained swimming instructor.
And the fact is, the YMCA has taught more people to swim than anyone in the country.
We have instruction for beginners and intermediates. Programs for parents with infants. Special programs for seniors and the disabled. And aquatic safety—like lifesaving programs and lifeguard certification. Just to name a few.
And the instructors are friendly, patient, and professionally trained.

Enjoy a beautiful and healthy vegetable garden

Good gardening is largely a matter of common sense. But it helps to know a couple of tricks. Here are some tips to help reduce work load and keep the garden free of weeds and pests for a beautiful, bountiful harvest.

Dig deep: Soil preparation is half the weed battle. Cultivate to a depth of 8 to 10 inches with a tiller or by hand. The soil will be loosened and aerated, and weed seeds and insect eggs will be buried deep enough to kill them.

Choose seeds and plants carefully: Check seed packets or seeding labels for disease-resistance. A tomato labelled "VFN" means it's resistant to Verticillium wilt, Fusarium and nematodes. Ask the nursery man what kinds are best. Pick early maturing types for a short growing season.

Plant in blocks: Plant seed or started seedlings in tight blocks a foot or so square, with boards or straw-mulched paths in between. This checkerboard method leaves little bare ground for weeds to invade and gives easy access to plants.

Mix things up a little: Mix blocks of vegetables with herbs, flowers and other ornamental plants for a more interesting garden, and to discourage attack by large numbers of the same kind of pest.

Beat the bugs, safely: You needn't panic and start spraying chemicals around if you see a bug. Plants can tolerate a few pests without serious damage. If you must take action, keep it simple—

•To control slugs, sink a shallow dish to its rim in the garden and fill it with beer. Crowds of these voracious pests will be attracted, fall in and drown overnight.

•To foil cutworms, put paper cup collars around your tomato plants, and sink them an inch or two into the soil.

•Handpick and squash tomatohornworms, or use Bt (Bacillus thuringiensis), a natural control for caterpillars and worms.

•Use safe, insecticidal soaps for aphids, mealybugs, spider mites, scale and whitefly.

If insects get out of hand and you need to use an insecticide, always look for non-toxics like the insecticidal soaps or natural pyrethrin-based insecticides. These products control pests without posing a threat to people, pets of the environment.

Was Your Vehicle's Suspension Damaged By Winter Potholes?

Find out with a Suspension System Inspection that allows our service technician to:

- Check Shocks
- Check Struts
- Check Wheel Alignment
- Check Wheel Balancing

A damaged or worn-out suspension system can cause unnecessary expense by permitting other vehicle parts to wear out before their time. Protect yourself against additional costs by making an appointment to bring your vehicle in for a Suspension System Inspection. See our service advisor for price information.

WHAT IS

4-WHEEL ALIGNMENT?

Every car, rear wheel or front wheel drive, has an imaginary centerline. All four wheels must be parallel to this line for proper handling and tire wear. When either the front or rear wheels are not parallel you will have poor handling performance, increased wear on suspension parts and tires!

DO YOU NEED IT?

You should have a periodic alignment check to find out.
